The bridal party caused some local concern at Haddington where troops were encamped. The party was being escorted by a small cavalcade to Amisfield. Alarm was raised when at first it was thought by the troops to be an enemy Jacobite army. The truth was soon established and the troops returned to camp and their evening meal.(b)
1446						w: PrestonHall, E.L.				During WW2 "Wooden huts occupied practically the whole of Amisfield Park which provided accommodation for the Lothian & Borders Horse regiments. The mansion of Amisfield was reserved for officers. Built of red sandstone the building was pulled down after the war and its stone used in the erection of a secondary school of Prestonpans & the Vert Hospital at Haddington. (c)
