Aged 16, John applied to a Director on the Victorian Railways for work, then told his father who was also a Director for V.R. that he was not returning to school. He was working on the Warrnambool - Port Fairy railway extension as a surveyor when he met & married Jane Swinton (1891). They were married in the Swinton's sitting room, he was 24, she 21 yrs old. He lost his job and £2,000 in the bug depression. He then He then got a job in the Government Office of the Melbourne Victorian Railways & lived in Moonee Ponds, Vic. Till c1893 when he was out of work again. c1895: His wives sister, Mrs Anne Brown gave him £50 to go over to WA to try his luck on the goldfields. He joined a party of 8 men & went prospecting - they did no good so returned to Vic. John took a job with the WA Government as a surveyor & returned to WA with Jane & son. Mr Briggs built them a house in Claremont (1899). John was sent to Cue to build a railway dam. John & family returned to Vic. & went farming at Timboon. He applied for a job with Millers, WA as a surveyor & was sent to Denmark, WA to a timber mill of which he became manager in 6 months. He was then sent to Worsley to open a new mill. John went to Manchuria for Jardeen Matherson of Shanghai to look for suitable mine timber but found no suitable timber. On his return he built a brick house at Servantis St., Swanbourne & worked in Millars Perth Office. He then went to Wellington Miss as caretaker for 6 months when the manager died. He liked the country and took up 300 acres south of the mill. At this time he was again called by Jardeen Mathleson to go to the island of Saghalin (Sachalin) to survey the River Pilievo. The island was a Russian convict settlement for murderers. Good timber was found so John returned to WA. He went to the Wellington block and built a cottage. Jardeen then sent him back to Pilavo as a manager of a timber concession on a 5 year contract - the whole family went. (Pilavo is near Vladivostock - Alexandrovsk). Before the end of the 2nd year the timber concession was cancelled by the Russians. The family returned to the house at Swanbourne, WA and John worked for Millers again as under-manager at Brown's Mill, Greenbushes, WA. >1913 he became manager. 1913: John had a house built on the farm at Wellington and 600 fruit trees were planted. With the return of his son John Strachan Kerr from World War 1 service, he sold him the farm. c1923: John bought the farm 'Melbournup' from Joe Chapman - it was an improved 500 acres & his son Robert A. Kerr managed. He was manager of Greenbushes for 23 years then obtained another timber concession at Palgarup, buying a 2000 acre mill site off J. Rose of Wilgarup. There was a store on the mill which he offered to his son Herbert. John C. Kerr retired at the depression in favour of John Strachan K. who then ran the farm 'Melbournup'.
