South Carolina, USA)	Sir Nesbit was one of the Executors of the will & estate of William Swinton, 'the surveyor', and his wife Hannah (White) Brown. Sir Nesbit had taken possession of the whole of William's South Carolina plantations with the exception of one, being the homestead (the Sampit Plantation, Georgetown Co, S.C.) Evidently he had sold the others and then died, making it impossible to recover the money. Williams heirs lost, or were swindled out of a fortune in property as a result. 418	NEVIN, Maria (see Edward Tyrrell SMITH)	MT	-	USA	F: James NEVIN M: Isabella CUMMING	b: 1754 w: New England, USA d: 1809	Edward Tyrrell SMITH	had issue	New England, USA	Although husb. was of a forceful nature, she was under the influence of the ultra-Evangelicals of the school of the Rev. John Newton. (a) She got the freedom of a slave suffering from small-pox & nursed him, subsequently catching the disease which led to her disfigurement & early death. Maria was described by her son-in-law as being "stately and somewhat grim in the old-fashioned manner". Maria kept a diary which referred to the period prior to the American Revolution. It was burnt together with several other family records and portraits during the Franco-Prussian War of 1870. The sole fragment of it that remains refers to her daughter's marriage in March 1808 (a).
